BROTHER CRAFFORD'S FAREWELL SERMON.

REPORTED BY BULL EASEL.

During my sojourn in Mississippi, (shortly after I heard the great sermon which was played on a harp of a thousand strings.) I had occasion to visit a friend in the neighborhood of Port Gibson. The next day being Sabbath, sceompanied him to Zion Chapel. A new or had been called to that neighbor frood, and this was to be his salutatory ser-

Zion Chapel was some hundred yards from the main road, and surrounded by forest trees Having arrived rather too early for the service myself and friend sauntered about the woods, rather actively employed in brushing away the cloud of mosquitoes that surrounded us. At length a strange specimen of the genus homo made his appearance on horseback; it was brother Crafford.

His dress was decidedly peculiar. On his head he wore an old-fashioned bell-crown beaver, several sizes too large. To remedy this defect a cotton bandana handkerchief was stuffed between the hat and forchead. His coat was of the most ancient pattern, blue with brass buttons, short waist and long swal low tail. The collar came within an inch of hiding the back part of his head. His vest was extremely long, and his pants ditto short. The latter were held down by a leather strap passed under a pair of brogans of an untanned leather color. Altogether, his presence strongly suggested Dan Marble in his Yankee character of Jonathan Homespun. But to the sermon-or, at least, a portion of it-for it was utterly impossible to report the whole.

The congregation was large, as it had been "norated" abroad that a new servant of the Lord was about to make his debut at Zion. Brother Crafford slunk into the pulpit with more than ordi ary humility, and after devoting a few moments to silent prayer, he Gingerly pushing up the sleeves of his store coat, whereby he displayed a pair of large, long, bony hands of a beef-red color. he grasped the handle of an earthern pitcher, and poured into a tin cup a draught of water which he drank with inimitable gusto.

His appearance in the pulpit was a study for an artist. His face was long and lank. eyes pale grey, nose aquiline, complexion sandy, hair grevish sandy, head bald on the top, with the exception of a small patch on the organ of the reverence, as if to shade it.) and altogether the picture of Greely whilst inditing a Freesoil Abolition document for the benefit of his southern subscribers.

He began apologetically, as follows:

"You don't see me to-day in the dress I illers wear ; I come among you as a stranger. and I am now tricked out in my store clothes am not a proud man, but I thought it would be more becoming before strangers."

After this he raised a hymn, in which the ongregation joined. He then began his ser-

ANDREW JACKSON, &c., ON KNOW NOTHINGISM.

The following extract is taken from the Washington Union, while Mr. Donelson was its editor, and, as it refers to the main issue on which Know-Nothingism is based, it is omething interesting:

"IMMIGRATION .-- The Republic of Wed nesday contains a long article on immigration to the United States. It portrays in vivid colors the rapid and unparalleled increase in the number of those who are seeking our shores. The Irish emigration is so great that the court journal classes it among the phenomena of history." We (Andrew Jackson Donelson) are glad to see this emigration from the Old World It brings us the physical force we need to fell the forest and to build our improvements. We have yet, and will have for many long years, scope and range enough for their industry and entergrise. But it was gal guilt of murder could be brought for my lenity." not our intention to discuss this branch of the home to Jeffreys may be doubted. But subject at the present time. THE VERMONT DEMOCRACY.

One of the most gratifying features connected with the Democratic party is the universality of its principles. A Democrat in Maine advocates the same doctrine as a Democrat in South Carolina. By the way, it is this touchstone which afford the true test of the nation ality of a party and its sincere devotion to principle. We have this peculiarity of demoeracy most strikingly illustrated in the proceedings of a democratic convention in Vermont, which are now before us held to appoint delegates to the Cincinnati Convention. In all these proceedings and speeches, published at full length, there is not one word or line that can be found which would offend the most sensitive Southern son. They breathe a spirit of loval devotion to the constitution and its compremises and guarantees, which would seem rather to savor of a milder region than the borean latitude of Vermont. One of the speakers, Hop. Mr. Ingersoll, of Connecticut, in the course of his remarks, declared that he had voted for the Nebraska bill, and gloried in the vote. The announcement was received with rapturous applause by the convention and three cheers were given for the bill and the Constitution.

Such is Democracy-homogeneous-polit ically, bone of a bone and flesh of a fleshstanding on the broad principles of equality of rights-the constitution and the union of the States .- South Side Democrat.

The people where he was concerned were as cruel as himself, and exulted in his misery as he had been accustomed to exult in the misery of convicts listening to the sentence of death, and of families clad in mourning. The rabble congregated before his deserted mansion in shouts of laughter, the bills which announced the sale of his property. Even delicate women, who had tears for high waymen and housebreakers, breathed nothing but vengeance against him .-The lampoons on which were hawked about the town were distinguished by an atrocky rare even in those days. Hanging would be too mild a death for him; grave under the gibbet too respectable a resting place; he ought to be whipped to death at the cart's tail, he ought to be tortured like an Indian; he ought to be devoured alive.

The street poets portioned out all his joints with cannibal ferocity, and computed how many pounds of steak might be ent from his well fattened carcass. Nav. the rage of his enemies was such that, in language seldom heard in England, they proclaimed their wish that he might go to the place of waiting and guashing of teeth, to the worm that never dies, to the fire that is never quenched. They exhorted him to hang himself in his garters, and cut his throat with his razor. They put up horrible prayers that he might not be able to repent that he might die the same hard hearted wicked Jeffreys that he had lived. He spoke with peculiar asperity of Sprat, who had undonbiedly been the most linmane and moderate member of the board.

It soon became clear that the wicked judge was fast sinking under the weight of bodily and mental suffering. Dr John Scott, prependary of St. Pauls, a clergy man of great sanctity, and author of the Christain Life, a treatise once widely re nowned, was summoned, probably on the recommendation of his intimate friend Sharp, to the bedside of the dying man. The accident occurred about 16 miles South of this, near the station known as that place is some 30 feet high, and had long been regarded as very insecure; in fact, the engineer had just "shut off" steam, intending to cross at a slow rate of speed, when the engine left the tract, and was followed by the whole train-consisting of an express car, a baggage and mail car, and two passenger cars. Before any of those on the train had time either to reflect or act, it was found that the cars were on fire, and, horrible to relate, no less than four persons were literally roasted to death in the flames. 1. Were the atmosphere everywhere at all times of a uniform temperature, we should never have rain, or hail, or snow The water absorbed by it in evaporation from the sea and the earth's surface would descend in an imperceptible vapor, or cease to be absorbed by the air when it was once fully saturated.

2. The absorbing power of the atmosphere, and cosequently its capacity to retain humidity, is proportionately greater in warm than in cold air.

The air near the surface of the earth is warmer than it is in the region of the clouds. The higher we ascend from the earth the colder do we find the atmosphere. Hence the perpetual snow on very high Ruling Elder in the Church at Thyatira, where mountains in the hottest climate.

Now, when from continued evaporation the air is highly saturated with vapor, though it be invisible and the sky cloudless, if its temperature is suddenly reduced by cold currents descending from a higher to a lower latitude, its capacity to retain moisture is diminished, clouds are formed, and the result is rain. It condenses, it cools, and like a sponge filled with water and compressed, pours out the water its diminished capacity cannot hold. How singular, but how simple the philosophy of rain. What but omniscience could have devised such an admirable arangement for watering the earth?

THE NEGRO AT HOME - Judge Gove, who is spending the Winter in Florida for the benefit of his health, in a letter published in the Nashville Oasis, speaks as follows of the slaves there:

The negro is the "gentleman of leisure" there. His task is little more than half that of a white laborer at the North, and he never does his whole task. He is the most happy, cheerful and contended being on earth. He is heedless and careless, be forgetten by those who were united to him and requires more labor to look after him, by those sacred and endearing ties. if any one is particular about having Prayer-Meeting, the Sunday School, or the Ses-Things done right, and to do it himself, sion, is now left vacant, and the Church justly mourns the removal of one of its principal pilif prepared for such work. MARRIAGE

In C byrus Co. March 13th by Rev. Samuel Rothrock, Mr. John T. Barringer, to Miss Marz L. daughter of Mr. David Barrier. On the 27th ult. by P. A. SIFFERD, Esq. Mr. DAVID J. KLUTTS to Mrs. RACHEL Boston, all of Rowan County.

DIED-In this town on the night of Februa. ry 25th, and in the 76th year of his age, Mr. THOMAS L. COWAN.

The death of one so extensively known, and so justly esteemed as was Mr. Cowan, and who occupied so prominent a place in the community as well as n the church of which he was a ember, demands more than a passing notice. Mr. Cowen was bern in Rowan County, N. C. on the 8th of July, 1750; his father was a Capin in the Revolutionary War, and an honored he subject of this sketch received his first religous impressions, under the ministry of the Rev. Samuel E. McCerkle, D. D.

When but sixteen years of age, he connected himself with that Church by a public profession of religion. Though successfully enaged in the mercastile business for more than a century, it was not necessary to be long his company to find that religion was with him e great and supreme concern.

During an acquaintance with Mr. Cowan of ore than thirty years, the writer can truly say im- that his uniform and cheerful piety, his rict integrity, 'he urbani'y of his manners, the the Gospel, the unwearied constancy with which he engaged in every good work, and the deep interest he ever took in everything that concerned the Church of God--all marked him as he christain gentleman, and the uniform and consistent follower of the Divine Redeemer. It was in a great measure to his unwearied forts that a Presbyterian Church was regurly organized in the Town of Salisbury, of hich he was, from the beginning, a most efficient Ruling Elder. He was instrumental altually, in which he always took a lively interest, and of which he was the Superintendent even to the close of his life. Gitted with an uncommonly fine voice and beig remarkably fond of sacred music, he led the praises of the sanctuary for a great number of ears, and was the means of greatly improving

RIO-GRANDE.

A RARE OPPORTOR he country, to improve their Stock.

RIO-GRANDE is one of the finest and purest looded horses in the world, as will be seen by reference to the English and American records of his pedigree. He is directly descended from the very purest and best stock in England and America, as the following pedigree will show:
RIO GRANDE is by Billy Harris, out of Lady Mongan. Billy Harris was by Monsieur Tonson, comptitude with which he responded to every he by Pacelet, dam by Madam Tonson, by Elliot's Top Gallant: grand dam by Barrey's Medley; Top Gallant by Gallatin; Barrey's Medley by Medley. Lady Morgan, the dam of Rio-Grande. was by John Richards; her dam by imported Expedition; her grand dam by Bela Badger's Sir Solomon; great grand dam Aufora, by imported Honest John; great great grand dam Zelippa, by imported Messenger; g. g. g. grand dam Dide, by imported Bay Richmond; g. g. g. g. grand dam Stamerkin, by imported Wildair; g. g. g. g. g. grand dam by imported Cub .- Ariel, the dam of Billy Harris, was by American Eclipse; her dam so, in establishing a Sabbath School, in connecby Financier; grand dam by Empress, by imported Baronet; great grand dam by imported Messenger; her dam by Snap, out of Jenny Duter, by True Briton; her dam Quaker Lass, v imported Juniper, out of the imported Molly acolet, by imported Pacolet; Molly Pacolet's am by imported Spark, out of Queen Mab. American Eclipse was by Duroc; his dam the famous race mare Miller's Damsel, by imported Messenger, out of the imported Pot-8-00000000's public. mare; her dam by Jim Crack. Duroc was by mported Diomede, out of Mr. Mosby's "extraordinary race mare Amanda," by Col. Taylor's famous Gray Diomede, son of imported Medley. It is deemed unnecessary to extend back any farther the pedigree of Rio-Grande, al hough it can be fully traced in the English Records back greeable companion to the Home Circle. In matters of public policy, both National and State, it will yield an unwavering support to Democratic measures, and a zealous advocacy ery free white man of the age of twenty-one of the Democratic cause; sustaining to the height of its ability the principles of the Balti-more Democratic platform of 1852, as agreed upon by the Party, and sanctioned by a large

Against the recently organized "Know Nothing," or "Native American" movement, the Sentinel will take decided and unequivocal ground; regarding the creation of a religious test as qualification for public office, at variance with the letter and spirit of the Constitution, op-posed to every principle of Republicanism, and worthy only the ignorance and intolerance of a darker age. Acting from a firm conviction that honesty, capability, and fidelity to the Constitution, (aside from political principle,) are suffi-cient requisites in candidates for offices under a Republican form of government, we shall oppose any organization, whether secret or open. that seeks to create a barrier between the native and adopted citizen, or to deprive either of the right and privileges enjoyed under the Constitution and Laws, as they stand. F.E. BONDE

For the Banner. POETICAL.

It is sometimes said that the era of romance, has passed ! that with the pastoral, classic, and chivalrous periode of the world the poetic element died out.

But this is manifestly a great error-the principle is essential to humanity.

No! mechanical as is the spirit of the age; wide as is the empire of utility; as long as the stars appear nightly in the firmament, and golden clouds gather around the departing sun; infancy, and the gentle eye of woman; as long as this earth is visited by visions of glory, dreams of love, and hopes of heaven; while life is encircled by mystery, brightened by affection, and solemnized by death, so long will the poetical spirit be abroad, with its fervent aspirations, and deep spells of enchantment, (Tuckerman.)

Henry Theodore Tuckerman, was born in Boston. April 20th 1813. After preparing for college the state of his health rendered it necessary for him to relinquish his studies, and seek a milder climate.

In September 1833 he sailed from New York for Havre, and after a brief sojourn at Paris, ensuing summer. In the spring after his re- man in the State. turn, he gave the results of his observation to the public, in a duodecimo volume, entitled 'The Italian Sketch Book."

This work was received with much favor. and passed to a second edition. The author resumed, and for a time, prosecuted his academical studies, but again experiencing the injurious effects of a sedentary life, and continued mental application he embarked in October, 1837 for the Mediterranean; visited Gibraltar and Malta. made the tour of Sicily, and, after a winter's residence at Palermo crossed over to the conti-

The winter of 1838, he passed chiefly in Florence, and returned to the United States in the course of the ensuing summer.

In 1839 appeared from his pen, "Isabel, or Sicily, a Pilgrimage." Under the guise of a Romance, it embraces many interesting descriptions and reflections incident to a Sicilian . tour.

For several years he has been a contributor to our periodical literature, both in prose and verse. A select from his writings, consisting of sketcies essays, and tales, was published in New York. in the autumn of 1841, under the title of "Ram. bles and Reveries," His style is graceful and correct, but not distinguished for vigor; and his thoughts and illustrations are pleasing and poetical." (Rufus W. Griswold.)

Below we extract his poem on. GREENOUGH'S WASHINGTON. The quarry whence thy form majestic sprung

Has peopled earth with grace, Heroes and gods that elder bards have sung, A bright and peerless race; But from its sleeping veins ne'er rose before

A shape of loftier name Than his, who Glory's wreath with meekness

The noblest son of Fame.

Sheathed is the sword that Passion never stain-

His gaze around is cast, As if the joys of Freedom, newly gained, Before his vision passed; As if a nation's shout of love and pride

With music filled the air, And his calm soul was lifted on the tide Of deep and grateful prayer;

As if the crystal mirror of his life To fancy sweetly came, With scenes of patient toil and noble strife,

Undimmed by doubt or shame : As if the lofty purpose of his soul Expression would betray

The high resolve Ambition to control. And thrust her crown away! O, it well in marble firm and white

To carve our hero's form Whose angel guidance was our strength in fight Our star amid the storm!

Whose matchless truth has made his name divine,

And human freedom sure, His country great, his tomb earth's dearest shrine.

While man and time endure ! And it is well to place his image there, Beneath the dome he blest; Let meaner spirits who its councils share,

Revere that silent guest ! Let us go up with high and sacred love

To look on his pure brow, And ar, with solemn gaace, he points above, Renew the patriots vow!

MARYING THE WRONG NIGGER. Soon after it was known that Leidesorffe's property in this city was immensely valnable, a well known gentleman then living here but since dead, let town in a great hurry and was absent some months when he returned, to the great wonderment of his acquaintences, who were entirely in the dark as to where he had been, or what he had been in pursuit of. After a while it leaked out that he had been to the West Indies looking up Leidesdorffe's heirs, and finding, as was Use of instrument said, a female that he believed was the real Simon Pure heir of the vast estate, Oil Painting he without ceremony poded the question, was accepted, and married forth with, congratulating himself that Capt. Fulsom and all other claimants would have to stand aside, while he, the great nabob of tion in board or tuition for absence, except in California, would be without a rival in the Golden State. After the marriage, in preparing the necessary documents and getting testimoney to substantiate the claims of his lady fair, he found to his astonishment that he had made a small mistake, and that in fact he "married the

A FAMILY JOURNAL OF LITERATURE AND NEWS FOR SOUTHERN READERS.

New York, and Philadelphia, have swept like a flood over that part of the nation south of Mason and Dixon's Line, many of them carrying with them some of the prejudices of abolitionism; and inculcating, to a greater or less extent, doctrines injurious to southern institutions. This dependence of the wass of southern readers should be thrown off-and it is believed would have been for the publication of first class literary papers.

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A

FAMILY PHYSIC

There has long existed a public demand for an effective purgative pill which could be relied on as sure and perfectly safe in its operation. This has been prepared to meet that demand, and an extensive trial of its virtues has conclusively shown with what success it accomplishes the purpose designed. It is easy to make a physical pill, but not easy to make the best of all pills—one which should have none of the objections, but all the advantages, of every other. This has been attempted here, and with what success we would respectfully submit to the public decision. It has been unfortunate for the public decision. It has been unfortunate for the patient hitherto that almost every purgative medicine is aerimonious and irritating to the bow-els. This is not. Many of them produce so much griping pain and revulsion in the system as to more fhan counterbalance the good to be derived from them. These pills produce no irritation or pain, unless it arise from a previously existing obstruc-tion or derangement in the bowels. Being purely tion or derangement in the bowels. Being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity; but it is better that any medicine should be taken judiciously. Minute directions for their use in the several diseases to which they are applicable are given on the box. Among the complaints which have been speedily cured by them, we may mention Liver Complaint, in its various forms of Jaundice, Indigestion, Languor and Loss of Appette, Listlessness, Irritability, Bilious Headache, Bilious Fever, Fever and Ague, Pain in the Side and Loins; for, in truth, all these are but the con-

Bilious Fever, Fever and Ague, Pain in the Side and Loins; for, in truth, all these are but the consequence of diseased action in the liver. As an aperient they afford prompt and sure relief in Costiveness, Piles, Colic, Dysentery, Humors, Scrofula and Scurry, Colds with soreness of the body, Ulcers and impurity of the blood; in short, any and every case where a purgative is required.

They have also produced some singularly successful cures in Rheumatism, Gout, Dropsy, Gravel, Erysipelas, Palpitation of the Heart, Pains in the Back, Stomach, and Side. They should be freely

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, and restores the appetite and vigor. They purify the blood, and, by their stimulant action on the circulatory system, renotate the strength of the body, and restore the wasted or diseased energies of the whole organism. Hence an occasional dose is advantageous, even though a president devacement, exists: but un-though no serious derangement exists; but unnecessary dosing should never be carried too far, as every purgative medicine reduces the strength, when taken to excess. The thousand cases in which a physic is required cannot be enumerated here, but they suggest themselves to the reason of every body; and it is confidently believed this pill will

This remedy has won for itself such noteriety from its cures of every variety of pulmonary disease, that it is entirely unnecessary to recount the evidences of its virtues in any community where it has been employed. So wide is the field of its usefulness, and so numerous the cases of its cures, that almost every section of the country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs which are incident to our climate. And not only in formidable at-tacks upon the lungs, but for the milder varieties of COLDS, COUGHS, HOARSENESS, &C.; and for Richmond and Petersburg, Va., via Lexington Jamestown and Greensboro'.
